

Your Homework....

- Spend the next few weeks considering ways you can intentionally teach, without directing students in their play.
- Start with commenting on students' learning in their play
- Gradually begin coaching children – consider this your 'gifting' of new knowledge to your learners as they direct their own inquiry in their play
- Review the values you hold with regards to learning and teaching. Schedule time over the term to reflect on these and how they are practically demonstrated in your learning environment. Do you need to make any changes?
- Give yourself some time before moving on to the next module in this E-Course series. The Role of the Teacher is a critical point of new learning – and needs time to be explored, embedded and sustained. If you have any questions about the material in this module – please get in contact with us to clarify your thinking further.
